This feature also allows players to pick and choose the number of players they want to appear in one game, and for even more realism and tactical analysis, it's possible to choose the number of bench players included in a simulation. Motion Capture gives players the opportunity to improve their technical skills, and join in the crowd and gain valuable experience through replays. Here are some of the new features we are most excited about: More Realistic Player Physics FIFA 22 boasts the most advanced player behaviour to date, with more accurate and realistic movement. New and improved animations have been added, and the full range of real-life movements has been captured. New Player Impact Engine FIFA 21 was the first game in the series to use a brand-new contact engine. Players will feel more connected to the ball, and opponents will move around the pitch differently. Brand-New Sound Engine Multiplayer and single-player matches can be enjoyed with unmatched realism using a completely new sound engine. New pitches, crowds, and music give matches an authentic and realistic atmosphere. Automatic Set-piece Delivery Set pieces are delivered automatically, through intelligent algorithms which predict where the ball is going, as well as where players are going to move and attack the ball. Set pieces become an essential part of the game, and teams become more creative in their tactics. Tactical Defending Off-ball defenders receive a new AI system which makes them more aware of attackers and be more aware of the angle and distance of tackles. Improved tackling and dribbling AI will also feel more unpredictable. Adaptive Tactical AI AI decisions are even smarter and more unpredictable. This means that your opponent may make more intelligent decisions to create an advantage for his team. New Player Attributes Balance, dribbling, and shooting have been improved, as well as mental and physical attributes. New attributes such as Stamina, Stamina Recovery, Stamina Recovery Rate, Health, and Energy will enable players to play even more responsibly. Football Manager Mode The Football Manager Mode includes a brand-new, expanded Matchday engine and a new Pitch-Maker 2D Scenario editor, where designers can create their own custom Matchday game. Players can manage the team directly, and share more detailed match reports using a new system, called Football Live. FIFA 2020 Career Mode
